

ASTRONOVA

Astronova is an app template designed for building astrology consultation platforms that connect users with professional astrologers. It supports structured communication through chat-based consultations, horoscope viewing, and appointment scheduling with time-slot management across dedicated user and astrologer applications. The system includes a rating and feedback mechanism to build trust and improve service quality, along with wallet-enabled payment flows for seamless transactions. Built with a clean, modular, and scalable architecture, Astronova ensures high performance, easy customization, and smooth integration with backend services. Its dual-app structure provides a complete foundation for launching feature-rich astrology service platforms efficiently.
