

CHATSQUARE

Chat Square is a feature-rich social networking and messaging app template designed to enable seamless user connection, discovery, and communication. It combines social media interaction with real-time chat functionality, allowing users to send friend requests, discover profiles, and engage through direct messaging. The template supports distance-based user discovery along with filters such as age and gender for refined matching. Users can share photos and videos through posts, interact with contacts, and build connections via an integrated social graph. Built with clean, modular, and scalable code architecture, Chat Square ensures high performance, easy customization, and smooth integration into new or existing social platforms.
