

DELIQUICK

DeliQuick is a multi-category delivery app template designed for building scalable hyperlocal platforms for food, groceries, medicines, dairy products, and daily essentials. It provides a structured multi-vendor ecosystem with dedicated user, vendor, and delivery applications to support end-to-end order management and logistics operations. Customers can browse multiple categories, place orders, and track deliveries in real time, while vendors manage inventory and product listings, and delivery agents handle fulfillment workflows efficiently. The template includes wallet-based payment support, structured order processing, multi-language capability, and comprehensive tracking features. Built with a clean, modular, and scalable architecture, DeliQuick offers a production-ready foundation for developing unified multi-service delivery platforms.
