

DOCTOSPACE

DoctoSpace is a comprehensive healthcare app template designed for building modern medical service and appointment management platforms. The solution includes four dedicated modules: User, Doctor, Seller, and Delivery. Patients can book appointments, request virtual consultations, order medicines, and schedule home visits through the User App. Doctors can manage consultations, appointments, and patient interactions, while pharmacies handle medicine listings and order fulfillment via the Seller App. The Delivery App streamlines medication distribution by connecting delivery agents with pharmacies and patients. Built with a scalable architecture and optimized codebase, DoctoSpace provides a reliable foundation for developing integrated healthcare, telemedicine, and pharmacy delivery applications.
