

FUNDWIND

Fundwind is a trading and investment app template designed for building secure stock trading and mutual fund platforms. The template provides ready-to-use screens for exploring mutual funds, comparing investment options, and managing portfolios. Users can browse funds, apply filters, view detailed fund information, and choose between one-time or SIP investments. It also includes features for wallet management, secure fund deposits, user verification, and a cart system for saving preferred investments. Built with a scalable architecture and strong security practices, Fundwind delivers reliable performance and flexible customization, making it suitable for fintech startups and financial service providers.
