

Paynow

PayNow is a digital payment app template designed to build secure and user-friendly payment platforms. Developed using modern technologies and structured coding standards, the template delivers reliable performance with a clean and intuitive user interface. PayNow includes thoughtfully designed screens and workflows that simplify digital transactions, account management, and payment activities for users. With its scalable architecture and polished design approach, the template provides a strong foundation for developing feature-rich fintech and digital wallet applications tailored to modern payment requirements.
