

PETWORLD

PetWorld is an all-in-one pet care app template designed for building modern veterinary and pet health management platforms. The template integrates online pet medicine ordering, veterinary appointment booking, and comprehensive pet care services into a unified system. It includes three dedicated modules: User, Doctor, and Delivery. The User module enables pet owners to book veterinary consultations, order medicines, and access pet care services. The Doctor module supports veterinarians in managing appointments, conducting consultations, and maintaining medical records, while the Delivery module ensures efficient distribution of pet medicines and supplies. Built with a scalable architecture and clean interface design, PetWorld provides a reliable foundation for developing pet healthcare and service applications.
